Lloyd George Believes Suggestions of Peace Would Be Taken as Signs of Weakness.

LONDON, May 10 (Associated Press).-No. 10 Downing Street, the official residence of Prime Minister Lloyd George, has been inundated with requests for confirmation or denial of reports from Belfast that Eamonn De Valera and Mr. Lloyd George had held a conference, but a definite yes or no to this query is being with-

Those usually informed of the Prime Minister's movements, however, have been unable to verify his whereabouts during the week-end of May 21, which fact is leading some to believe that a secret peace conference between the Irish republican leader and the British Prime Minister may have occurred then.

Lloyd George announced in the House of Commons to-day that it was proposed to strengthen the Crown forces in Ireland and that a statement would be made to Parliament on the subject when the arrangements were completed.

The Prime Minister, in thus confirming the recent informal statements that additional troops were to be sent to Ireland, added that it was not intended to send the Reservists there. He made his appouncement in answering a question from a mem-

The Prime Minister said there could be no question of making good out of the British Exchequer the damage of the Dublin Custom House caused by the recent incendiary descent upon that building.

'One of the most precious possessions of the Irish people was wantonly and deliberately destroyed by the Sinn Feiners," he added.

The Prime Minister said the loss estimated at $2,000,000 and that the claim would be presented in due course under the taw the loss would fall upon the local authorities, but it would be within the powers of the Southern Parliament to make pro-vision for meeting the loss, wholly
